Dorset Park Day 10th Anniversary

On Saturday, July 15, 2017 the Dorset Park community came out to attend its annual “Dorset Park Day” at the McGregor Community Centre in Scarborough. The community had much to celebrate, as the event marked its 10th anniversary and featured crowds of 600 + people who travelled from all areas of the community. Travel accommodations were also provided by a free shuttle bus donated by West Scarborough Community Services. The day was complemented by beautiful summer weather which allowed everyone to enjoy the programming which was filled with activities for all ages.

The activities began with a free community BBQ and as from years past, residents lined up in numbers to receive the food which was generously prepared and cooked by Enbridge. The upbeat mood and ambience resonated as residents enjoyed their food to live steel pan music provided by two Scarborough community players. People danced and enjoyed the sounds as parents and children mustered up their energy for other activities which followed around the community centre grounds. As the day heated up, the DJ took over with vibrant musical rhythms that were intricately mixed and controlled. The music provided a healthy workout for both adults and kids as they participated in Zumba and Yoga sessions that were led by professional instructors who provide weekly programs at Dorset Park Community HUB. Kids additionally enjoyed a healthy drink by juicing their own smoothie using a bicycle blender which was donated through the Scarborough Healthy Kids Campaign and the East Scarborough Boys & Girls Club. The station attracted many as people also received giveaways including water pouches to support their campaign of healthy eating and drinking water over sugary drinks. Kids also exercised their minds with the support of the Children's Aid Society, who provided over 200 books as donations from their literacy program with corporate partners.

While the day continued under the direction of the co-master of ceremonies, several kids took home prizes donated by residents and local business partners by playing games and testing their skills in dance activities. To commemorate the day, a brightly decorated backdrop created an outdoor photo booth where residents had their photo taken by an onsite photographer. Families and friends enjoyed posing for the camera and received an instant portrait through the use of an online album. The Dorset Park Neighbourhood Association (DPNA) also provided a presentation on the history of the neighbourhood and how the involvement of residents has improved programming and support over the years.

Other activities that provided food and entertainment included: a balloon animal show from the Toronto Public Library, snow cones and popcorn from Toronto Parks & Recreation and a bouncy castle. Several community agencies also showed their support through outreach activities. As the day came to a close, the Toronto Police squad from 41 division joined the fun and crowds by offering popsicles to everyone. After an entire day of community engagement and kinship, it was a great way to end the festivities.

With the support of staff and volunteers, the 10th anniversary of Dorset Park Day was successfully executed from beginning to end. This year, the event was sponsored and planned by Agincourt Community Services Association (ACSA), Action for Neighbourhood Change (ANC), Toronto Parks & Recreation, Children's Aid Society, Rosalie Hall, Local Immigration Partnership (LIP) – East Quadrant and community residents. The entire team is thanked for the long hours and efforts with supporting and planning this special anniversary.

Summer Youth Recruitment Fair

On Thursday, July 27, 2017 the Dorset Park Network Employment Committee held a recruitment fair in support of youth employment in Scarborough. The event took place at Bendale BTI and was the first of its kind for the neighbourhood. It showcased eight youth-oriented agencies including YMCA, Tropicana Community Services, Next-Steps Employment Centre and Toronto Parks & Recreation. After several months of gathering feedback on youth employment needs, the fair aimed to fulfill a gap in services which youth indicated was an area that required improvement through better accessibility, outreach and engagement. The idea sparked the interest of many young individuals who did not disappoint, as they showed up to engage in meaningful and productive conversations with agency representatives. Many connected with programs and learned of the vast resources available for skills-building and training. The event also included the participation of several summer student youth from Agincourt Community Services Association (ACSA) who supported activities and operations. They created a fun atmosphere while handing out back-to-school supplies and awarded 5 participants with Tim Horton's gift cards through a special draw. On behalf of the Dorset Park Network Employment Committee, I thank everyone who participated and contributed to achieve a successful launch. We look forward to expanding in seasons to come!
